

Fifth Six Weeks Writing Bellwork

Name/#:

Date:

Bell Work 23

They want to plan field day
themselves.

This is incorrect. The correct word is themselves.

Jayson's basketball team lost the first game.

This is correct because the team belongs to Jayson.

5/4

5/4

I can't wait to have a cup of tea.

This is correct because a goes in front of a word that begins with a consonant sound.

The treaty of velasco was signed by President Santa Anna.

This is incorrect because we capitalize names of historical documents.

5/4

5/4

She and Kassie plan all of the events for their company.

This is correct because she is used at the beginning of sentences (not her).

Kassie is a good cook.

This is correct because good describes a noun (cook).

5/4

5/4

I really like to eat baklava but a cannoli isn't as good.

This is incorrect because it needs a comma to connect the two sentences and one of the FANBOYS.

She said, "go to Carlo's Bakery next time."

This is incorrect because we capitalize the first word inside quotation marks in the fourth grade.

5/4

5/4

Complete Sentences 1, Capitals 1, End punctuation 1, Neat Handwriting 1

Beneath the bay window, you will find all the board games. 2/1

This is correct because you need a comma after a prepositional phrase at the beginning of a sentence. 2/1

Yes, we have Monopoly.

This is correct because you put a comma after the word yes at the beginning of a sentence.

Doug loves to play chess. 2/1

This is correct because you don't need a comma after a name unless you are addressing the person.

After he wins, he always yells. 2/1

This is correct because you need a comma after a transition (or prepositional phrase/AAAWWUBBIS).

I love to play Go Fish, Old Maid, and Uno. 2/1

This is correct because you use commas with a series.

There is an Uno card on the table. 2/1

This is correct because you use the word an before a word beginning with a vowel sound (or capitalize names).

When Jayson was little he always won every Uno game his sister hated playing with him 6

When Jayson was little, he always won every Uno game. His sister hated playing with him.

Name/#:

Date:

Bell Work 24

He swimmmed across the lake.

5/4

This is incorrect because swim is an irregular verb. It should be swam.

Lucy's sloth smiled at her.

5/4

This is correct because the sloth belongs to Lucy.

While I was in my car, I heard a song about bluebirds.

5/4

This is correct because you need a comma with an AAAWWUBBIS.

He gave my mom a game to practice my multiplication facts.

5/4

This is correct because mom isn't being used as a name, so it doesn't need a capital.

DJ Jake gave Cross and me an album.

5/4

This is correct. If you take out the word Cross, it still make sense.

Lisa always draws good.

5/4

This is incorrect because draws is a verb, so it needs to be the word well.

I needed a new piece of paper, but I couldn't find any.

5/4

This is correct because it is two complete sentences with one of the FANBOYS, so it needs a comma.

"I can't wait to go on the Austin field trip!" she shouted.

5/4

This is correct because she shouted, so it needs an exclamation mark instead of a comma.

Complete Sentences 1, Capitals 1, End punctuation 1, Neat Handwriting 1

My dog sleeps outside in our shed. 2/1
This is correct because you don't need a comma when a prepositional phrase is at the end of a sentence.

We bought our dog in Hico Texas. 2/1
This is incorrect because it needs a comma between the city and state.

Randy do you have any pets? 2/1
This is incorrect because you need a comma after a name when you address a person.

After our dog wakes up he likes to run and play. 2/1
This is incorrect because you need a comma after a transition (AAAAWWUBBIS/preposition).

He loves to chase birds, squirrels, and cats. 2/1
This is correct because we use commas in a series.

He has a black an white collar. 2/1
This is correct because it should be the word and instead of an.

Our dogs have all been named after baseball pitches their names are Slider Sinker and Splitter. 6
Our dogs have all been named after baseball pitches. Their names are Slider, Sinker, and Splitter.

Name/#:

Date:

Bell Work 25

He ain't never going to forget my birthday.

5/4

This is incorrect because there is a double negative. It should be he isn't ever.

Lola's hedgehog is named Llama.

5/4

This is correct because the hedgehog belongs to Lola.

Until I get a piece of cake, I'm going to cry.

5/4

This is correct because you need a comma when you start a sentence with an AAAWWUBBIS.

The STAAR test will be on a tuesday.

5/4

This is incorrect because we capitalize days of the week.

Christian and I are going to the Japanese garden.

5/4

This is correct. When you remove Christian, it still makes sense.

Allison remembers phone numbers good.

5/4

This is incorrect because remembers is a verb. It should be well.

Brain break day was fun, but the Austin trip will be even more fun.

5/4

This is correct because you need a comma with two complete sentences and one of the FANBOYS.

"I will always remember the rule about FANBOYS," Rudy said.

5/4

This is correct because you need a comma to separate the character and narrator.

Complete Sentences 1, Capitals 1, End punctuation 1, Neat Handwriting 1

In my bedroom corner, I have a piano keyboard. 2/1

This is correct because you need a comma when you begin a sentence with a preposition.

2/1

Yes I know how to play it.

This is incorrect because you need a comma after yes at the beginning of a sentence.

Do you play the piano, Becky? 2/1

This is correct because you set off a name with a comma when addressing someone.

Even after 40 years I still remember my first piano lesson. 2/1

I love to play hymns, classical music, and ragtime. 2/1

This is correct because you use commas in a series.

2/1

I have never played an organ.

This is correct because you use the word an before a word that begins with a vowel sound.

When I got married I couldn't take my piano with me I didn't play for ten years 6

When I got married, I couldn't take my piano with me. I didn't play for ten years.

Name/#:

Date:

Bell Work 26

We like to say the poem ourselves.
This is incorrect because it should say ourselves.

5/4

The flags' of Texas are easy to remember if you know the poem.
This is incorrect the flags don't own of Texas. This is confusing to students...of Texas shows ownership of the flags.

5/4

The texas revolution ended in 1836.
5/4

This is incorrect because we capitalize names of battles and wars.
5/4
The earth is only one of the planets in our solar system.
This is incorrect because we capitalize earth when referring to the planet name.

Her and Aubrie always play on the slide at recess.
This is incorrect because her isn't used at the beginning. It should be she or the person's actual name.

5/4

Avery shoots the basketball good.
This is incorrect. Shoots is a verb, so it should be well.

5/4

The end of the year is near, so the students are excited.
This is correct because it needs a comma. It has two complete sentences and one of the FANBOYS.
5/4
Mrs. Shanafelt asked, "do you know where your permission slip is?"
This is incorrect because we always capitalize the first word inside quotation marks in the fourth grade. T

Complete Sentences 1, Capitals 1, End punctuation 1, Neat Handwriting 1

By my couch I keep a basket of yarn. 2/1
This is incorrect because it needs a comma after the prepositional phrase at the beginning of the sentence.

I learned to crochet on January 6 2019. 2/1
This is incorrect because it needs a comma between the day and year.

Theresa was my grandmother's name. 2/1
This is correct. You don't need a comma with a name unless you are addressing that person.

After she died, I wanted to learn to crochet to honor her. 2/1
This is correct because you need a comma after a transition (AWWWUBBIS/Preposition).

I bought yarn and a hook. 2/1
This is correct. It doesn't need a comma because it isn't a series or two complete sentences.

My favorite hook is an blue hook she used. 2/1
This is incorrect. It should be a because blue begins with a consonant sound.

There are many types of yarn some yarns are thick others are thin there are even yarns that are extra soft 6
There are many types of yarn. Some yarns are thick. Others are thin. There are even yarns that are extra soft.

Name/#:

Date:

Bell Work 27

She seen an elephant in the circus.
This is incorrect because it should be saw.

5/4

The tour guides' knew all about the Battle of the Alamo.
This is is incorrect. The guides don't own knew all about.

5/4

While he made a ninja star
Preston talked about basketball.

5/4

This is incorrect. It begins with an AAWWUBBIS, so it needs a comma.

The book was called The boy in the alamo.

5/4

This is incorrect. The title isn't capitalized correctly.

Mrs. Thayer gave part of her lunch to Abby and I.
This is incorrect. If you remove Abby, it doesn't make sense to say I.

5/4

The band plays that song badly.
This is correct because plays is a verb.

5/4

Sometimes I want to eat all of the chocolate, and ice cream in my house.

5/4

This is incorrect because it isn't two complete sentences, so it doesn't need a comma.

"Fight for your lives! The bridge is burned!" exclaimed Deaf Smith.

5/4

This is correct because he is shouting, so it needs an exclamation mark instead of a comma.

Complete Sentences 1, Capitals 1, End punctuation 1, Neat Handwriting 1

Kassie wore one of her friend's cleats on her injured foot.

2/1

This is correct because the cleats belong to her friend.

April 9 2009 was a windy day.

2/1

This is incorrect because you need a comma between the day and year.

Kassie, had to wrap her infected toe with layers of gauze.

2/1

This is incorrect because you only need a comma with a name if you are addressing the person.

After wrapping it, she decided to run her race anyway.

2/1

This is correct because you need a comma after a transition (AAAAWWUBBIS/preposition).

She ran with a limp but her face was determined.

2/1

This is incorrect because it needs a comma. It has two complete sentences and one of the FANBOYS.

She won an sixth place ribbon.

2/1

This is incorrect. It should be a instead of an because sixth begins with a consonant sound.

She lost her shoe on the final stretch and never missed a step I was more proud of her that day than any race she ever won

She lost her shoe on the final stretch and never missed a step. I was more proud of her that day than any race she ever won.

Name/#:

Date:

Bell Work 28

He finished all of his bell work for the year.

5/4

This is correct because it begins with a capital and ends with a period.

The school's windows are decorated with eagles.

5/4

This is correct because the school owns the windows.

As soon as I finish my work, I'm going to take a nap.

5/4

This is correct because you need a comma when you begin a sentence with an AAAWWUBBIS.

It won't be long now until it is Summer.

5/4

This is incorrect because we don't capitalize names of seasons.

Cross and Lily picked up all the trash after Eagle Club.

5/4

This is correct because Eagle Club is a name.

Mrs. Shanafelt is so proud of how well you all write.

5/4

This is correct because well is describing a verb (write).

Field day, and the awards assembly will be the last week of school.

5/4

This is incorrect because there is not a series or two complete sentences.

"Remember the Alamo," the men shouted as they fought against Mexico.

5/4

This is incorrect because there should be an exclamation mark instead of a comma.

Complete Sentences 1, Capitals 1, End punctuation 1, Neat Handwriting 1

My school kids always have a place in my heart. 2/1

This is correct because you don't need a comma when the preposition is at the end of the sentence. 2/1

Yes, that means you.

This is correct because you use a comma after the word yes at the beginning of a sentence.

Mrs. Thayer and Mrs. Montgomery agree with me. 2/1

This is correct. You don't need a comma because it is not a series or two complete sentences.

After you leave fourth grade, I will still think of you as my fourth grader. 2/1

This is correct because you need a comma after a transition (AAAWWUBBIS/prepositional phrase).

We love you when you are grown, when you are far away, and even when you have forgotten who we are. 2/1

This is correct because it needs comma in the series. 2/1

I want you to have a happy life.

This is correct because it is a complete sentence.

I wonder what you will remember from our year together will you remember something fun we did or something you learned 6

I wonder what you will remember from our year together. Will you remember something fun we did or something you learned?